Mobile

Gentle Giant

Up, up, time to flyMoving all around, going everywhere from town to town
All looking the same, changing only in name
Days turn into nights, time is nothing only if it's right
From where you came don't you think it's a gameNo, no, don't ask whyDo it as you're told, you're the packet, do it as you're sold
To all your friends, none for you at the end
Give them all you can, finish stronger than when you first began
You never pretend, all for you at the endTime, time, say goodbyeTo another place, hoping that you're seeing what you chase
All things as they should, always thought that they would
So you're racing ahead, home is just your shelter and your bed
You do all you could, yesterday not as goodThere are no hours, there are no seasons
Only the present, choice is the reasonUp, up, time to flyMoving all around, going everywhere from town to town
All looking the same, changing only in name
Days turn into nights, time is nothing only if it's right
From where you came, it's you who's taking the blameGive them all you can, finish stronger than when you first began
You take the acclaim, don't you think it's a game

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/