Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

The way the light hits the room
The way I am unable to protect you
Oh I'm running away
I will never forgive myself
For running away from you He came back to our house
I didn't take it as a promise
Always thought it was a lie
He went too far the fucker
It's not like I owe him money
This is different So gather your strength and break free
Or you will surely die
So gather your strength don't follow me
'Cause I will surely die Way my eyes cannot move
Way I hope to be protected
And for one moment I thought
That I was lost among the lights of houses He came back to our house
I didn't take it as a promise
Always thought it was a lie
He went too far the fucker
It's not like I owe him money
This is different So gather your strength and break free
Or you will surely die
So gather your strength don't follow me
'Cause I will surely die My dreams, dreams of violence
See them coming true
My dreams, dreams of violence
See them coming true He came back to our house
I didn't take it as a promise
Always thought it was a lie
He went too far the fucker
It's not like I owe him money
This is different So gather your strength and break free

Or you will surely die
So gather your strength don't follow me
'Cause I will surely die
