Paralyzed

Failure Anthem

Floating away, drift into a distance watching people fade. I wish we would've known.
I'd jump into the future and let it all go. I thought I had it all, but when I saw your face I watched my kingdom fall.
No more time to waste. Life started over. Now I'm free.[CHORUS]
I see fire in your eyes. I can't walk away. You've got me paralyzed.
Like stars in the sky, light to the blind you've got me paralyzed.Time has come and gone, but one thing I learned.
The news will always change and people do the same.
I put my hope in one thing, the home that we built,
the world that we made.
Cause everyone around us has smoke in their life or a match that won't light, but we won't be the same.
We're one step ahead and that will never change.[CHORUS](Let's run away. Let's run away.)
I've never needed anything more than I need you.
(Let's run away. Let's run away.) and start a brand new life.[CHORUS]
You're a satellite burning so bright. I'm waiting for you to come take me home.
Like stars in the sky and light to the blind you leave me,
you leave me paralyzed.
