To The Hilt

Die Krupps

Woke up - still in a dream nothing's the same
can't pronounce my name I open my mouth
words come out
that make no sense
for a stranger's ear
in a foreign language
in a foreign land
now I'm an alien
on a different planet
it makes it clear - I understand we are all strangers - in a foreign landburn the bridges forge ahead
to the hiltback home I feel insane
nothing's the same
except for my name
I open my mouth
words come out
for my lover's ear
in my native language
in my native land
I'm still the alien
on a different planet
it makes it clear - I understand
I am a stranger - in my own land
