Can you keep a secret, dude?
We'll keep this shit between me and you
I've only told to one person, my girlfriend
So I thought, I'd go and let the world in Look, brother I love you
But where a house risk wearing false rings to escape
No one else lives, you can't help this
But it's making me sick how you and I are making both sick
I'm scared, if it were something that I dealt with I'd be in a cellar with my arm
Cause I'd find where the motherfuckers' house is
I swear I got the crads in my hands, but you doubt this
Hey yo, I'm sorry if that's selfish
I just ain't afraid to say this shit when no one else is Please deon't let me go
I'm hanging by the bed
You don't know this part
I need you to save me from the South
And give me something to live for
Cause I'm dying slowly These are the minds that are coded in We'll be chasin' after our dream
When you need it to sleep
You got to stay more awake to make it a sure thing
When life gives you the short string
Confusion is the core thing
Spend time just wondering what it all means
If somebody could guide me by all means I had to put the bottle down
And the pills, I ain't poppin' them now
The ways of escaping are blocking out my memory
Light hearted friendships children relate to
No one wants to know the planet that I escaped from
This therapy I use to escape from soemthing painful Please deon't let me go
I'm hanging by the bed

You don't know this part
I need you to save me from the South
And give me something to live for
Cause I'm dying slowly I know that I'm saying crazy stuff
My close friends are telling me that I say too much
But those who've been through are telling that I'm brave as fuck
I never quite understood what self-destructive means
But sabotage is something good
I was out of control
With not a care
Now I understand everything that got me there
In a dark tunnel trying to find a light that wasn't there Please deon't let me go
I'm hanging by the bed
You don't know this part
I need you to save me from the South
And give me something to live for
Cause I'm dying slowly Please deon't let me go
I'm hanging by the bed
You don't know this part
I need you to save me from the South
And give me something to live for
Cause I'm dying slowly
