

Twisted By Design

Sum 41

I've got my scars to bare
Stitches just can't repair, woah
There's no one to blame this time
Absolution's waiting on the prayer I'm breaking down the walls
Bailing my share of falls, woah
There is blood on my hands
Is it blessing
In a lifetime twisted by design What I say
Is it a flare or the cure
'Cause it's a brand new world
I don't know it for many for
Just to test
'Cause I'm miles above you flying with no safety net
I don't believe in fate although
This time I think I've met my match
Why all the dreams so hard to catch?
'Cause if you get in time
What it feels inside
We live right on the line What I say
They say bleeding is the hardest part
What I say with every beat of my heart
I alone will find my way
To get right back to the stars
They say the fire in my heart is gone
What I say it's really only just begun
All I know you know that I am
I'm twisted by design
I'm twisted by design I'm taking the days 'cause they come
But now I'm seeing the world as if it thousand times
I admit they somewhere along the lands
I guess I lost my grab
Unlike is turn the pages end is up
I need to get things right
One more chance to catch the light
'Cause you forget in time
What it feels inside
We live right on the line What I say
They say bleeding is the hardest part
What I say with every beat of my heart

I alone will find my way
And get right back to the stars
They say the fire in my heart is gone
What I say it's really only just begun
All I know you know that I am
I'm twisted by design
I'm twisted by design Starting over again
But further again
I can't stop it's one for closing in
Going on my head
All the tears that I had
Not enough
To take my breath away
They say bleeding is the hardest part
What I say with every beat of my heart
I alone will find my way
And get right back to the stars
They say the fire in your heart is gone
What I say it's really only just begun
All I know you know that I am
I'm twisted by design
In some ways I've changed
And I've left it all behind
But can't change, no way
I'm twisted by design
