

Peeling off the Bark

Pinegrove

leanin in a dark room:
a look alike james wright (when all my life I've been rejecting what will I say yes to?)
what did I say yes to?
i'd been cutting glass carefully & all my time was spent alone;
i didn't expect you what did I say yes to?
what did I say?
been talkin 'bout you so much
i'm talkin you away
(what did I say yes to?
what did I say?
i've been talkin about you so much
i'm talking you away)
cookin up some mushroom in my kitchen tryna tell you about my month you're only half-listening i know i never listen
how can i? Your eyes bloom:
slanted yellow in the blinds bleeding into a dark room//so how could i say yes to you?
what should i say?
i've been talking 'bout you so much yea, what did I say yes to?
what did I say? i've been thinkin 'bout you so much i think I'm thinkin you away
i'm opening it up now:
What a plunge! What a lark!
i'm picking all the seeds out
i'm peeling off the bark
i'm picking all the seeds out!
i'm breaking it apart
i'm opening it up now
i'm peeling off the bark
