

Railroad (Part 2)

Status Quo

{One two three sing it} Railroad, she left me standing on a line
Railroad, she's really leaving me this time
Leaving on the midnight train
Leaving never gonna come back again I'm living alone
A place of my own
A bed, a chair and one back door
Something went wrong
With the words to my song
And now she ain't around no more
It was something she said
As she laid on my bed
Six or seven hours ago
I guess I was wrong
I really didn't think she would go Railroad, she left me standing on a line
Railroad, she's really leaving me this time
Leaving on the midnight train
Leaving never gonna come back again
