Solace

Bleed the Dream

Solace redefined
And I can't even bring myself to try and figure it
Who I amRosaries and wine
Trying not to see exactly when or where you failed
Stare into the eyes of bloodThey say that we chase dreams that don't exist, that don't exist
But you have tried so hard to find what's better than this, than this Running from myselfI'm running from the mal-adjusted boy I used to be
In sickness and in health
I would even be here if the walls were caving in
Stare into the eyes of blood
