

Chant for Eschaton 2000

Behemoth

Fly, fly high my Black Eagle

Let golden thread bind our eyes
May our minds and hearts blood unite On your wings carry me over the abyss
Beyond The Reason and across the burning seas
Then, with your claw tear the earth to the halves
And usher me into the secrets of her bowels Circle! Round and round my Black Eagle

Down to the light of the beginning and the end which shimmers Let our senses be touched by ultimate pleasure
May the passion of hunting become all - devouring Slash! Slash with your beak
Remove all gods from my way, and thoughts, and sorrows And let me trespass the barriers of fear

Scream! Let the whole cosmos tremble
May echoes become my the sweetest mantra
Spirit of Freedom! Eternal Wanderer! Joyfull Solitude!
Higher and higher towards the stars of Awareness Let worlds of imagination and fact become one

I'm you and you are me
