

Halo (feat. Myles Kennedy & the Conspirators)

Slash

Like a prophet of doom
I have come to show the way
I'm the Devil you keep inside 'Cause it's all I can do
To stay silent and remain
Watching all of your days pass you by But the time has come
To throw your halo down
We may never live forever, so you better live for now
Don't deny it
What you need ain't in the clouds
Here it comes, here it comes
Time to dirty up your halo Could be living so high
But you waste your life away
So afraid to be what you are So I beg you to try to start living for today
'Cause regret's gonna bury your heart But the time has come
To throw your halo down
We may never live forever, so you better live for now
Don't deny it
What you need ain't in the clouds
Here it comes, here it comes
Time to dirty up your halo You will not obey
You will not obey, defy it
I will lead the way
I will lead the way to bring you down (Solo) But the time has come
To throw your halo down
We may never live forever, so you better live for now
Don't deny it
What you need ain't in the clouds
Here it comes, here it comes
Time to dirty up your halo
Put down your halo
Put down your halo
Here it comes, here it comes
Time to dirty up your halo now
