

Fool Me (Acoustic)

Neon Jungle

Going slow on a road to nowhere
Feet falling as fast as they can
You know it's hard to hold on to anything
When there's holes in the palm of your hand
So walk past 'turn back' signs, just hoping I can see

But I don't wanna learn my lessons
So I keep on making the same mistakes
I don't wanna learn my lessons
So if you fool me, fool me again

Thrown paint over all the mirrors
So there's nothing to show us that
It's gonna break, gonna hurt, don't wanna know
That we're falling until we crash
Don't need reminding that we've been here before

But I don't wanna learn my lessons
So I keep on making the same mistakes
I don't wanna learn my lessons
So if you fool me, fool me again

Fool me, fool me again

All these bones are tougher than skin
And that's been one rule, now I'm ready for it
Can break a thousand pieces down, oh

But I don't wanna learn my lessons
So I keep on making the same mistakes
I don't wanna learn my lessons
So if you fool me, fool me again

But I don't wanna learn my lessons
So I keep on making the same mistakes
I don't wanna learn my lessons
So if you fool me, fool me again

Fool me, fool me again
