

Superhero

Gary Barlow

To be your superhero
I can't sit and wait for you to say
If there's room inside your heart
I'm not used to playin' that silly game
Turn me down or let me start
You have to believe, I'll make things right
Open your arms, give up the fight
For all that you want, for all that you're feeling
There's a place where you can go
For all that you need, I will be waitin'
To be your superhero
Now if you decide, to run and hide
It's only you, you're cheating
The key's in your hand, you must understand
I won't be defeated, no
I really believe, this goes inside
Open your arms, let me see in your eyes
For all that you want, or all that you're feeling
There's a place where you can go
For all that you need, I will be waitin'
To be your superhero, to be your superhero
I'm sure that you've heard this before so many times
Girl, look inside my heart and you will find
You'll find your superhero
I'll be the one to hold you, I'll never let you go
I'll always understand you, baby
To be your superhero
For all that you want, for all that you're feeling
There's a place where you can go
For all that you need, I will be waiting
To be your superhero
For all that you want, for all you're feeling
There's a place where you can go
For all that you need, I will be waitin'
I'll be waitin' to be your superhero
