

Heart of Somebody

Caroline Spence

I've been going out
I've been making plans
Trying to pretend this is who I am
I need something more
I want something else
This is the well and I want the top shelf
I want to lose myself
in the heart of somebody
Hoping to need me then
Not just to want me
I want to lose myself
In the heart of somebody
See the love I give returned to me

Empty glasses and empty promises
Filling up my nights
But in the morning I just want to forget
I want to be full and bursting at the seams
With love, unconditionally
I want to lose myself
In the heart of somebody
Hoping to need me then
Not just to want me
I want to lose myself
In the heart of somebody
See the love I give returned to me
I just want the love I give to return to me
