

We Are the Dead Hearts

Blackhole

I have been biting my tongue for way too long,
And it's not easier I swear.
This constant reminder of what I have become,
Is building up and I can't stand the thought.
This dead weight follows me, warning of the end of the world.
This dead weight follows me, screaming in my ears.
This dead weight is my reminder of what I've done wrong.
This dead weight is my way of seeing the world.
I have been biting my tongue for way too long,
And I'm just getting worse I swear.
Paranoia is becoming a part of my life,
I'll try forgetting today for years.
This dead weight follows me, warning of the end of the world.
This dead weight follows me, screaming in my ears.
This dead weight is my reminder of what I've done wrong.
This dead weight is my way of seeing the world.
You have been dragging me down,
And it's building up on me.
I can't break this dead heart,
I can't.
I am the dead heart, I am nothing now.
I am the dead heart, I am nothing now.
We are the dead hearts, we are nothing now.
We are the dead hearts, we are nothing now.
