

The Conspiracy

Tangerine Circus

I. Overture (Instrumental) II. The Facts I have never spoken with lies

The ones without a name

All my life I've been deemed as perfect

A God walking among men We bring justice

In this war-torn world

By law and order we abide

We empower the weak

Always without taking a risk

Our watchful eyes

Our everlasting grace We hide secrets (lies)

The truth is far from being known

We have control, over your future and your days

We have been forged a brotherhood since the beginning of time

We have exploited our resources, now watch as we all fall in line

There's no use in hiding

We have no place to go

Waken up by a silent scream

There is no choice but to run

We have put our trust in you

In your guides, in your regrets

We have long suffered from deceit

And our buildings, they will collapse

Our cities too

We have nothing left but ourselves We lay here

Safe from the dangers of the outside

But what's the point?

We can't even make love anymore

We have been forged a brotherhood since the beginning of time

We have exploited our resources, now watch as we all fall in line III. Conspiracy Theory Tell me please, how dead it seems

A world with no real will to live

Our mission was to free the beast

That cut our lifeline in midst

And we obeyed, and we let down

The few that have stood up and fought

The skies will come down, birds will walk the earth

The world will turn upside down

Here we go again Here we stand

Here we fight

Here we dieAnd we say yes, and we think no
Opinions now come round and round
In times of peace, in times of war
We don't know where loyalties are We're being saved, and we don't know how
In politics, there's not just one crown
As humans grow weak, the system grows strong
The world has turned upside down
Here we go againIV. Unveiling the ShroudWhile the chants and music of all the oppressed
Keep being silenced, fading in the wind
We still fight and remember how they possessed
Our spirit
I keep moving and she comes across my way
Her eyes like oceans, her lips like poison
And in a second she vanished into thin air
Back on trackA love so fatal yet beautiful has taken control over me
Unveiling the shroud over thousands of secrets, all kept deep within the earthWhen you remember, the chains upon your back
The pain they caused and the scars they left
The feeling 's what caused your heart turn into fire
Feeling inspired
Now see how it goes, the night turning into day
Waking up your lover, telling her today
How you created a world, right in your bed
And the pleasuresA love so fatal yet beautiful has taken control over me
Unveiling the shroud over thousands of secrets, all kept deep within the earthV. Beneath Numbers
(Instrumental)VI. Grand FinaleAnd even when we reach, the end of the way
We will still fall, and hear them laugh
The path was theirs, our memories too
But the wish still remains, it will remain
