

Game Over

Falling in Reverse

My life is like a video game,
Trying hard to beat the stage.
All while I am still collecting coins.
Trying hard to save the girl,
Obstacles, I'm jumping hurdles.
I'm growing up to be a big boy. I battle with the evil ways,
I travel far, and try and save,
Sorry but your princess isn't here.
I take a rest, I push the pause,
Level up, and move along
In hopes that the next stage I will clear.
(I fucking passed asshole!) I'm just trying to keep from dying It's just a game that we play
And for heaven's sakes
Looking for a better way to play it!
Life is for keeping score and forever more,
Stop complaining and start changing it. Today I went to therapy,
Told him my embarrassing
Issues that I'm having with my life.
He told me that I need to change,
Life is not a video game.
So stop playing and open up your eyes I'm just trying to keep from dying It's just a game that we play
And for heaven's sakes
Looking for a better way to play it!
Life is for keeping score and forever more,
Stop complaining and start changing it. Don't talk about it,
Just be about it,
Don't ever doubt it even when your brain is clouding.
I may be crazy,
But life's amazing
And through it all and even with your problems facing.
So just know that it's okay. My life is like a video game,
Trying hard to beat the stage.
All while I am still collecting coins.
Up up down down left right left right B A select start. It's just a game that we play
And for heaven's sakes
Looking for a better way to play it!
Life is for keeping score and forever more,
Stop complaining and start changing it. It's just a game that we play
And for heaven's sakes

Looking for a better way to play it!
Life is for keeping score and forever more,
Stop complaining and start changing it.

Songwriters

RONNIE RADKE Published by

Lyrics © Peermusic Publishing, MOTHERSHIP MUSIC PUBLISHING Song Discussions is protected by U.S.
Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>