

Tonight The World Dies

Avenged Sevenfold

Lost the meaning of our stay
Learn to live another day
Doubt the choices that we've made
I know that we can't add our shame
It's only in disguise
Drowning in our own debris
Fool of thoughts as though we're free
Close our eyes so we can see
The death of all we need to be
If only in my eyes
I don't mind
(Make the writing on the wall)
My life grinds
(Tortured voices as we crawl)
Find me on my better days
To lose it once again in a way
So try and numb while you can
And take the time to understand
As long as I can touch your face
You know I'll never leave this place
If only in my mind
I don't mind
(Make the writing on the wall)
My life grinds
(Tortured voices as we crawl)
Find me on my better days
To lose it once again
But I seem to find out better ways
To consciously pretend
Silence all I want to say
And it seems to run away
I'll run away with you tonight
Launder all my sins away
And just like that mistakes are made
You know tonight the world dies
I don't mind
(Make the writing on the wall)
My life grinds
(Tortured voices as we crawl)

Find me on my better days
To lose it once again
To consciously pretend
