All About Me

Stinkin Rich

Come on, bore me
Tell me a little more about you
Come on and bore me please
Bore me, tell me what you think
I cannot believe
I got through a single day
Of my life without you
This all about me, this is not about you
This all about me, this is not about you
This all about me, this is not about you
This all about me, not you
Why every time I try, you never hear me
You only hear you
Why every time I try, I never get through
This all about me, not you
This time it's all about me, not you
Hey wait, I think I might have something to say
Hey wait, I think I might have something to add
Ain't it funny how when my opinion starts to spill
It falls on deaf ears
This all about me, this is not about you
This all about me, this is not about you
This all about me, this is not about you
This all about me, not you
Why every time I try, you never hear me
You only hear you
Why every time I try, I never get through
This all about me, not you
I pledge allegiance to myself
To me, myself and I, go
This all about me, this is not about you
This all about me, this is not about you
This all about me, this is not about you
This all about me, not you
Why every time I try, you never hear me
You always hear you
Why every time I try, I never get through
This all about me
Why every time I try, you never hear me

You always hear you
Why every time I try, I never get through
This all about me, not you
This time it's all about me, not you
I pledge allegiance to myself
To me, myself and I
I pledge allegiance to myself
To me, myself and I
