Ginger

Lilys

when you leave it will be cold outside swing from tree to tree you're bound to die ginger disapears with the snow and she comes and goes but she mostly goes can't be sure of a lot of things she knows she soldout poems about the south she blows wide "O" rings threw her mouth he keeps her nose warm with his hand when gravel hits the ground they call it sand she's throwing lawn darts threw a map singing "hey man like there's where it's at"

that's the place for me and that's where i'll be anywhere i want

anywhere i wanna be and i'm what you wanna be well i'm where you want to be and i know somedays you just die just as you dont really even try ginger knows and she knows that it blows

and she comes and goes but she mostly goes
can't be sure of a lot of things she knows

and you sold out poems about the south she blows wide "O" rings threw his mouth she keeps his nose warm with her hand when gravel hits the ground they call it sand
she's throwing lawn darts threw a map
singing "hey man like there's where it's at"
that's the place for me
and thats where i'll be
anywhere i want
anywhere i wanna be i'm what you want to be anywhere i wanna be

ginger snows a lot about her lives she talks about how "oh so hard she trys" ginger knows and she knows that it blows
and she comes and goes but she mostly goes
and she comes and goes but she mostly goes

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com written by HEASLEY, KURT KARGAR Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/