All We Are

Fischerspooner

The breaking light sparks the human strain
And it is the dawn relentless again
With endless arms, hot, holy light
Radiates and then it all beginsWe are as one and one is all we are
We are as one and one is all we areInhaling quick when I see your being Cant define the divine and Im born again
The limitless is within my reach
Particles passing through a microcosm
That is all we areWe are as one and one is all we are
We are as one and one is all we are
We are as one and one is all we are
We are as one and one is all we areI cant define, it is divineWe are as one and one is all we are
We are as one and one is all we are
We are as one and one is all we are
We are as one and one is all we areWe are as one and one is all we are
We are as one and one is all we are
We are as one and one is all we are
We are as one and one is all we are
