

Immortal Enemies

Hatebreed

When the conflict never ceases
and the enemies are immortal
Only their names change
So a stance must always be held
Claw at my pride your facade tears away
Another day dies, i'm looking, i'm looking
Attempt to break my stride, fall deeper, tread faster
Another cry ignored, the most desolation
If the conflict must last forever
So must our struggle for justice
In a state of faith denied
Is it any wonder where the answers lie? Enemies must die
Conflict is unending
Chaos never ceases
Where does the solution lie? Claw at my pride your facade tears away
Another day dies, i'm looking, i'm looking
Attempt to break my stride, fall deeper, tread faster
Another cry ignored, the most desolation
If the conflict must last forever
So must our struggle for justice
In a state of faith denied
Is it any wonder where the answers lie? Enemies never die
Conflict is unending
Chaos never ceases
Where does the solution lie? When the conflict never ceases
and the enemies are immortal
Only their names change
So a stance must always be held
Enemies never die
Conflict is unending
Chaos never ceases
Where does the solution lie?
