

Let It Out

Lucina

I used to think I was invincible
You get knocked down and then you brush it right off
But there are just so many times
That one can take before it just has to stop They think you're weak when they look at you
The quiet one who won't come back fighting
What they don't know is that it isn't true
It isn't true, no no it isn't true no oo Sometimes it may seem harder
Than you thought just please remember
Your strength is key to show them what you've got
So let them see Now stand up and fight, don't sit back and cry
Just stand your ground with your head held high
Stare them right in their face, put them back in their place
And take a step back Just let it out (just let it out, just let it out, don't let them bring you down)
Just let it out (just let it out, just let it out, don't let them bring you down) When you are young and innocent
It makes it all that more difficult
But there are things that only time
Can give to you as the years go on by No longer when they look at you
Will they see someone broken inside
You're biting back you're pushing though
You're holding up yeh yeh cos this is you Its time for things to change (to change)
So stand up and light the flame (light the flame)
Its time to burn so let it rise on up
And let it hurt Now stand up and fight, don't sit back and cry
Just stand your ground with your head held high
Stare them right in their face, put them back in their place
And take a step back Just let it out (just let it out, just let it out, don't let them bring you down)
Just let it out (just let it out, just let it out, don't let them bring you down) Just let it out, just let it out, don't let them bring you down
Just let it out, just let it out, don't let them bring you down
Just let it out, just let it out, don't let them bring you down
Just let it out, just let it out, don't let them bring you down Now stand up and fight, don't sit back and cry
Just stand your ground with your head held high
Stare them right in their face, put them back in their place
And take a step back Just let it out (just let it out, just let it out, don't let them bring you down)
Just let it out (just let it out, just let it out, don't let them bring you down)
Ohhhh
