James Blake

All went in the fire, drowning the sea
A red dawn, oh, red font
Caught up in the sea, all went in the sea
If only, if only, if only, if only
Did you want to [unverified]
I always saw me love, I will be love befallen
I will lay my teeth, I'll wait for growing
And we both will know, and before you're all gone
Daring on the peak, telling on the teeth
I've been down to the open road
I'll wait for you, you know and we both end up alone
And if only we could have known, I will haa
All went in the fire, drowning the sea
A red dawn, oh, red font
Caught up in the sea, all went in the sea
If only, if only, if only, if only I was effing low
