Something Big

Jekalyn Carr

"Something Big"I'm grateful for this place, but I want get complacent, I want get comfortable, I want get settled here, because I know that you got build up for me, but today I say by faithSomething big is about to happen, something big is about to happen to me
I know it is, I feel it is, I know it is Something big is about to happen, something big is about to happen to me
I know it is, I feel it is, I know it isI'm in a great place, but the dreams you show me are bigger than here
I realize that I can't stay this size, for every season there is a higher dimension
I want always be in this place, but today I say by faith
Something big is about to happen, something big is about to happen to me
I know it is, I feel it is.
Yes something big, something big is about to happen, something big is about to happen to meNow all over the world let's make this declaration say.
I declare I am going higher, I declare I been christian, I declare I'm getting stronger, and my head will be down no longer.
I declare that it's getting better and I declare that it's getting greater, and I declare that I'm moving Lord I declare by faithSomething big is about to happen, something big is about to happen to me
I know it is yes, I feel it is.
Say something big is about to happen, something big is about to happen to meLet's lift up our declaration again everybody say it.
I declare I am going higher, I declare I been christian, I declare I'm getting stronger, and my head will be down no longer.
I declare that it's getting better and I declare that it's getting greater, Lord I declare that I'm moving and I declare by faith
Something big is about to happen, something big is about to happen to me
I believe that this is my season for something big
Something big is about to happen, something big is about to happen to me
I believe it is right around the corner
Yes something big. something big is about to happen, something big is about to happen to me
I understand that my visions are not in vain.
Yes something big, something big is about to happen, something big is about to happen to me
I believe that my dreams are not in vain
Something big, something big is about to happen, something big is about to happen to me
Oh I declare it say something big, something big is about to happen, something big is about to happen to me something big something big
