Just Another Dream

Stick Figure

Waking up in my favorite place
My studio is my new hiding space
This cold dark room is all I need
Won't someone get me off my feet

So I walk alone, through these streets
Got my headphones, and I've got these beats
And no one knows that I'm gone
Well I just wanted to be alone
Just to be alone, yeah just to be alone
Just to be alone, yeah just to be alone

Which way from here shall I go?
And time is lost on this open road
You win or lose, it's just a lesson learned
It's the road I choose, I show no concern

There's a time to live, a time to die
A time to laugh and a time to cry
A time for love, no time for hate
The world can be so heavy, can you feel its weight?
Well now I know, yeah, yes well now I know
Well now I know, yeah, yes well now I know

Things are finally looking up I won't be shot back down
The truth can hurt and turn your world upside down
Caught in the middle, what goes around comes around
Are we all just dreaming? Are we all just dreaming?

You can get me high, you can get me low
But you can't tell me how to live my life, you know?
As certain as it seems, I think you might agree
Well is this real life, or just another dream yeah? Yeah
It's just another dream
It's just another dream
It's just another dream
It's just another dream
