Jacksonville

Jinja Safari

Are you still wondering about us now
Disappearing [sh?] out of Jacksonville
Am I such a fickle figure of romance
That you couldn't take your shadow off my will

Do you still believe that I
I could still surprise you
I could still surprise you
Do you still believe that I,
I could still surprise you

(Amazing instrumental)

And now the curtain's been called (mmm)
And the audience stalled
And then there's no where to hide (ooh)
Every thought that you tried to keep inside

How many times do I have to say
That I will love you 'til my final day
How many times do I have to say
I'll always love you if I get my way

Are you still wondering if I would snap
Both of my fingers and move on like that Did the message get lost inside of the metaphor
When I said the heart to me was just a swinging door

Do you still believe that I,
I could still surprise you
I could still surprise you
Do you still believe that I,
I could still surprise you
I could still surprise you

How many times do I have to say
That I will love you 'til my final day
How many times do I have to say
I'll always love you if I get my way

How many times do I have to say
That I will love you 'til my final day
How many times do I have to say
I'll always love you if I get my way...

Lyrics Submitted by Ethan Porter

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/