

All That Really Matters

Journey

See the headlines
Have you heard the news
They're tryin' to turn the world upside down
We sit and watch it on TV
Programmed prophets trying to bring us down Give us a break now
We know it can't all be bad news
Let's get away now
Cause when I'm holding on to you We're all, we're all that really matters
The time is now
For taking our own chances
We're all, all that really matters More brain power
Just to keep alive
Some computer trying to shut you down
The world powers watchin' the way you live
On a mission pushing us around Give us a break now
No way we're gonna lose
We'll find a way now
Cause when I'm making love to you We're all, we're all that really matters
The time is now
For taking our own chances
We're all, all that really matters I want to love you
I'm gonna try to make it right
Nothing can touch you
We'll make a dream come true tonight We're all, we're all that really matters
The time is now
For taking our own chances
We're all, all that really matters We're all, we're all that really matters
We're all, all that really matters
