Hitman

Metal Church

Your woman's unfaithful, she's got a back door man
You've seen the signs and you understand
They'll soon be dead, now, I know just what to do
I got the guns, ha ha, I got the toolsYes I'm the one they call the man
In the name of all, I'm just a hitman
I'll get the job done
No one will ever know it was you, it was youThey got their men promoted before it's time
You break a sweat and your balls before the moments time
Don't get excited, I got a plan
We'll take him down now, he'll be one dead manYes I'm the one they call the man
In the name of all, I'm just a hitman
I'll get the job done
No one will ever know it was you, it was youJust don't pay me, then you will see
What a dead man really canYou're at the cemetery feeling all alone
Just like a dog who can smell the bone
You start to cry or make one little sound
You'll be the next one, I'll put you in the groundYes I'm the one they call the man
In the name of all, I'm just a hitman
I'll get the job done
No one will ever know it was you, it was you
