

Come Back

The Child of Lov

All of my eye down the drain everything that's left nothing more than the grave Why did you leave?
like you're the one who can decide the thing like that can find a thing like that don't you understand that I will give my life protecting your back there is nothing I expectCome back I'll be your man till the end of time
Baby, come back
You are the woman that can revive
And from the grave
that I encounter when you went away
Come back and stay
'couse all my colours are turning grayWent out for coffee all alone wishing you were here no one, no milk
no sugar anymore
i'm lost without you i'm feeling so pathetic,I don't know myself
I don't show myself Falling from the sky
I've never felt that I became the vain
Don't want to lose this gameCome back
I'll be your man till the end of time
Baby, come back
You are the woman that can revive
And from the grave
that I encounter when you went away
Come back and stay
'couse all my colours are turning grayPlease, come back in the morning Please, come back in the evening
Please, come back in the morning Please, come backPlease, come back
I'll be your man till the end of time
Baby, come back
You are the woman that can revive

And from the grave
that I encounter when you went away
Come back and stay
'couse all my colours are turning gray

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>