Black Roses

Blutengel

I was addicted to his smile so much temptation in his eyes i love the way he touched me his beauty made me weak he gave me so much pleasure he promised everything
I know that he was lying but I can't resistI am searching in the darkness for my love, he disappeared he left me without answers I know he will not return the night is full of roses black roses in my heart i was to weak to follow him now everything falls apartI was addicted to his smile
so much temptation in his eyes
he promised everything
I know that he was lying but I can't resistI'm to weak to carry on I leave the world, there's nothing wrong I have to pay the price for love
black roses in my heart
I run away into the night I never saw the light but now it's shining like the sun I want to close my eyes
