

I Still Love You You Still Love Me

Millie Jackson

Hey. Well, he's gone. He's really gone.
I lost him. Now what am I gonna do?
Oh, well. Staring at the doorway listening for the phone,
God knows I don't ever remember feeling so alone.
I sit by the window listening to the wind
Dreaming of the days gone by when you and I were friends. 'Cause yesterday seems like two million miles away.
Our lives have gone astray.
We've run out of things to say.
And the way we used to be is just a bittersweet memory.
We're both blind and we can't see that I still love you.
(I still love you.) You still love me, baby. In the dark hours of the morning,
Lately I don't sleep so warm.
Feels like I've been lying here with a stranger in my arms.
Boy, we've got to face it.
Let's talk it out today.
We got to get that feeling back before it slips away. Because yesterday seems like two million miles away.
Our lives have gone astray.
We've run out of things to say.
And the way we used to be is just a bittersweet memory.
We're both blind and we can't see that I still love you.
(I still love you.) You still love me. Yesterday seems like two million miles away.
Our lives have gone astray.
We've been running out of things to say.
And the way we used to be is just a bittersweet memory.
We're both blind and we can't see that I still love you.
Do you still love me, baby.
(I still love you.) I still love you, baby.
(You still love me.) You still love me. Yeah, now.
(I still love you.) I still love you, baby.
(You still love me.) I believe you still love me, daddy.
Come back. (I still love you.)
Can't you see I'm waiting on you, baby. Oh. (Millie laughing and giggling)
I still love you.
(You still love me.) I know you still love me.
He'll be back. (I still love you.)
You can't stand it here without me.
You'll be back. I know you'll be back.
I still love you. (Millie laughing and giggling)
DOCTOR: Put your arms right in here. We're not gonna hurt you.

MILLIE: Don't come near me.
DOCTOR: Nurse.
MILLIE: Take your hands off of me!
DOCTOR: Nurse, would you please help me?
MILLIE: Let go of me!
DOCTOR: Miss Jackson, please.
MILLIE: Your mommy's insane in Paramus!
DOCTOR: Nurse!
MILLIE: Let go of me!
(Millie screaming) I still love you.
You still love me.
I still love you. You still love me.
