My Underworld (feat. Corey Taylor)

Tonight Alive

What do you ache for
I ache for wonder
Still I wait til that place calls
To take me underBut I beg for your mercy fear it's safer here than below
As I'm losing control I steer my ship into the unknownNow we sail into deep blue storm clouds
Overhead now strangely I feel at peace as I dive into
My underworld, world
I dive into my underworld, worldDown in these depths I'm adding the numbers
Of all I've suffered in past lives tied down in the darkness
Finally I begin to learn what I've returned tonight
Time has come to begin again leave something else behind
Now we sail into deep blue storm clouds
Overhead now strangely I feel at peace as I dive into
My underworld, world
I dive into my underworld, worldI remember I know this place
(I know this place)
So I separate (so I separate)
Every life
You can have too without
Want me try
(Want me try)
What we can't deny (we can't deny)
Is our heart
This is where our ship is skinned of all beliefs
And I surface as a better man
At the depths of winter spring bloomsSo I release and retrieve my courage from my sleeve
So these deep blue storm clouds
Overhead now strangely I feel at peace
As I dive into
My underworld, world
I dive into my underworld, world
I dive into
My underworld
