

Again

Tapping the Vein

Again I am wearing this weight again
It cuts like it did then
It's consuming all my thoughts
And swallowing me again And what you see is what's left of me
But I'm here
I didn't think I'd scare very easily
But I fear this thing It is wearing me out and thin
Paralyzing me again
It was vicious all the way here
I am barely alive And what you see is what's left of me
But I'm here
I didn't think I'd scare very easily
But I fear this And I wish you love
With anyone else but me
And I wish you love with anyone And all I can do I will do for you
If I'm here
I promise you I'll remember you
While I'm here And I wish you love
With anyone else but me
And I wish you love with anyone And I wish you love
With anyone else but me
And I wish you love with anyone And I wish you love again
And I wish you love again
I am surrendering me
Surrendering mine
