

Now That I Have You

Teena Marie

Am I dreaming, are you real
Can this be heaven how I feel
Raindrops falling down
Make the sweetest sound, sweetest sound
Now that I have you Greet the morning with a smile
Feelings within me running wild
Gray clouds in the sky
My love cannot hide
Now I have you in my life I'm feeling things I never felt before
Now that I have you
And nothing seems to matter anymore
Now that I have you I'm feeling things I never felt before
Now that I have you
And nothing seems to matter anymore Gentle lover, angel child
Come let me hold you for a while
Love shines from your eyes
Such a sweet surprise
Now I have you in my life I'm feeling things I never felt before
Now that I have you
And nothing seems to matter anymore
Now that I have you I'm feeling things I never felt before
Now that I have you
And nothing seems to matter anymore Such a sweet surprise
Now I have you in my life I'm feeling things I never felt before
Now that I have you
And nothing seems to matter anymore
Now that I have you I'm feeling things I never felt before
Now that I have you
And nothing seems to matter anymore I'm feeling things
I'm feeling things, I never felt before
Now that I have you
And nothing seems to matter to me anymore
Now that I have you I'm feeling things
I'm feeling things, I never felt before
Now that I have you
And nothing seems to matter to me anymore Gray clouds in the sky
My love cannot hide
Shines from your eyes
A sweet surprise

Now that I have you Raindrops are falling down
Makes the sweetest sound
Now that I have you
Am I dreaming, are you real
Can this be heaven that I feel Now that I have you
Now that I have you
Now that I have you
