Sleep Well, My Angel

We Are the Fallen

Watching you sleep for so long,
Knowing that I can't turn the rain into sun
Anymore
I've given you all that I am
Now I stand here
Too scared to hold your hand
Afraid you might wait to see
The monster that had to leave

Cause you see the shelter as the storm,
Holding wind to keep you warm
You were everything to me,
This is why I have to leave

So sleep well, my angel

Under the ash of the lies,
Something beautiful once here now dies
And the tears burn my eyes
As you sit there all alone

I just want to come home

But you see the shelter as the storm,
Holding wind to keep you warm
You were everything to me,
This is why I have to leave

So sleep well, my angel
Sleep well, my angel

I'm sorry (x4)

You see the shelter as the storm,
Holding wind to keep you warm
You were everything to me,
This is why

You see the shelter as the storm,
Holding wind to keep yo warm

You were everything to me,
This is why I have to leave

So sleep well, my angel
Sleep well, my angel

Lyrics submitted by Elaine.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/