

The Demon's Whip

Manowar

Black candles, slowly burning, white fangs and flashing eyes
Hell's wind and incantations summon living fire
Darkest forces and your demon's black order, black king
The cult that serves the living, accept this offering
Black candles, slowly burning, white fangs and flashing eyes
Hell's wind and incantations summon living fire
As the seven steps await, hear the great bell toll
With a dead man's bones conjure, the enemy of the soul
From the misery and sadness, of the molten seas of Hell
Mystic love and mystic symbols, in evil dreams there dwell
Darkest forces and your demon's black order, black king
The cult that serves the living, accept this offering
A deadly drink, a meal of hearts, now sacrifice and die
In darkness and destruction, behold the evil eye
And the Demon's whip
Armies of the Gods of Hell ride across the astral plane
Bearing curses of destruction, sworn beyond the grave
Children of the darkness, all born but to deceive
By the ancient code of evil, grant not one reprieve
In the place where evil dwells, death can live when all life dies
Wage eternal war on Heaven, immortal hate below the sky
Your scripture and your sermons are leaves born on the wind
To heal the unrepentant, one needs a greater sin
Night winds, Oblivion, see my dark desire
Come forth and appear, he is living fire
Feel the Demon's whip
Armies of the Gods of Hell ride across the astral plane
Bearing curses of destruction, sworn beyond the grave
Children of the darkness, all born but to deceive
By the ancient code of evil, grant not one reprieve
In the place where evil dwells, death lives when all life dies
Wage eternal war on Heaven, immortal hate below the sky
Your scripture and your sermons, are leaves borne on the wind
To heal the unrepentant, one needs a greater sin
Feel the Demon's whip, feel the Demon's whip
Feel the Demon's whip, feel the Demon's whip
Feel the Demon's whip, feel the Demon's whip
