

Old Enough to Know

Michael W. Smith

In the passion your heart is abused
He is pushing you, you have to choose
Oh, Rebecca love is never easy anymore
Oh, Rebecca so afraid of losing what is yours Oh, are you giving in to the pressure?
Holding you again, now he tells you
What it takes to be in love
He believes you're old enough But how you gonna feel oh tomorrow
When the day reveals
What you believed was for the sake of love
Don't you think you're old enough to know? You're a breed of few and far between Holding on to your romantic dream
Oh, Rebecca, love is patient, love would understand
Oh, Rebecca, your decision is your only chance Oh, are you giving in to the pressure?
Holding you again, now he tells you
What it takes to be in love
He believes you're old enough How you gonna feel oh tomorrow
When the day reveals
What you believed was for the sake of love
Don't you think you're old enough to know? Yeah, yeah Ohh, Rebecca don't confuse what love is
With what some say love should be, should be Are you giving in to the pressure?
Holding you again, so now he tells you
What it takes to be in love
He believes you're old enough How you gonna feel oh tomorrow
When the day reveals
What you believed was for the sake of love
Don't you think you're old enough to know? Are you giving in?
Give something you forgive to be in love
Oh Rebecca don't you think you're old enough to know How you gonna feel?
Oh, what do you believe for the sake of love?
Oh Rebecca hang on girl, you're old enough to know Are you giving in?
Give something you forgive to be in love
Oh, you're old enough to know How you gonna feel
Oh, what do you believe for the sake of love?
Don't you think you're old enough to know Are you giving in?
Give something you forgive to be in love
How you gonna feel
Oh, what do you believe for the sake of love?
