

Raise Your Hands

Krokus

One love, no war
I know I'm not alone
I like to live my life in freedom
So don't you close the door Around the world too many people
Wastin' their lives away
'Cause they can't tell what's right from wrong
At the end of the day Life is hell, no peace for the wicked
Where evil rules the game
Spreads like a wildfire and burns you down
We've gotta fight it, gotta stamp out the flame Raise your hands for a better world
Raise your hands and let your voices be heard
Raise your hands if you want a better world
Raise your hands, I say that truth is the word I know I'm not alone
I look in your face
Can see her sparkling shine of innocence
I'm in the best right place Life has its burdens, too much pain
She can be a cold bitch
Let's put this sufferin' all down to experience
And let her make us all rich Living in hell, no peace for the wicked
Where evil rules the game
Spreads like a wildfire, destroys all dignity
We've gotta fight it, gotta stamp out the shame Raise your hands for a better world
Raise your hands and let your voices be heard
Raise your hands if you want a better world
Raise your hands, I say that truth is the word Let's hear it Raise your hands
Raise your hands for a better world
Raise your hands and let your voices be heard
Raise your hands Raise your hands, make a stand
Turn on and raise your hand, make a stand
Raise 'em high in the air
Make that message clear
