Settled

The Ransom Collective

and one by one i'm making a list of all the things that i once loved i'm writing down everything it means we played our parts colored within the shapes and lines a brand new start leaving our fear and doubt behind and i'm keeping my lungs and holding my tongue this time oh and i'm keeping my lungs and holding my tongue this time follow me to the sea you're telling me, telling me so much more wait and see what it means i'm telling you, telling you there's so much more than what you settled for and i was wrong to ever believe the things were changed but suddenly all of my stars would rearrange and in the end all my excuses had run dry coz in my head i was afraid to even try and i'm keeping my lungs and holding my tongue this time oh i'm keeping my lungs and holding my tongue this time follow me to the sea
and hush now keep your head down move fast soon they'll find out keep your thoughts together move fast now or never hush now keep your head down
move fast soon they'll find out
move fast now or never
move fast soon they'll find out
move fast now or never
move fast soon they'll find out

move fast soon they'll find out
move fast now or never
move fast soon they'll find out
move fast soon they'll find out
