I'm Gonna Love You

Murphy Elmore

I see your face but I ain't even there yet shadows of your body dancing thru a candlelit bed room gonna feel the temperature rise wont take my eyes off of your eyes feeding for the feeling on your skin on my skin

its been way too long since i've tasted your lips and my hands on your hips i promise when i get home
like you ain't ever been loved and i'm gonna hold you
long after the sun comes up drop the world at the door
give you all my attention show you everything we both been missing so slip into something you don't mind me slipping off soon cause i'm gonna love you.

you'll hear the door then you'll hear my foot steps steady down the hall til i'm falling into your breath lets got your body on my brain peddle down til your calling out my name feeding for the feeling on your skin on my skin

baby i cant wait no more

take it fast take it slow just wanna make sure you know

oh baby slip into that something
