

Waiting On a Friend

The Sights

If you're waiting on a friend
It looks like you'll be waiting forever
Hope our paths will never cross
'Cause you will not forget it Day after day
It's the same old thing
But it's too late
And it made you think
Well I don't care what happens to you
Well I don't care about what happens to you We let that nature run its course
When we believed your broken (?)
You used up all your alibis
Exhausted all your weapons Day after day
It's the same old thing
But it's too late
And it made you think
Well I don't care what happens to you
Well I don't care about what happens to you
Well I don't care about what happens to you
