

I Will

Hedley

If I told you a secret, would you tell the whole world?
That I'm losing my mind 'cause I think that I just fell in love with a girl
It's the same time as last year and the colors never fade
And I lie to myself like the first time I told you I'm not afraid
A thousand miles a minute standing still
My every move your good looks can kill
If you're not going to do something stupid, oh well
I will, I will, I will
If I do something foolish, if you're brave enough to stare
If it takes me the whole night to tell you my thoughts then I'm going nowhere
A thousand miles a minute standing still
My every move your good looks can kill
If you're not going to do something stupid, oh well
I will, I will, I will
Ooh I will, ooh I will
When Sunday turns to Monday and your hand starts to shake at the sound
Am I crazy?
Did you notice the way that everything's frozen in the moment?
We're going
A thousand miles a minute standing still
My every move your good looks can kill
If you're not going to do something stupid, oh well
I will, I will, I will, oh
A thousand miles a minute standing still
My every move your good looks can kill
If you're not going to do something stupid, oh well
I will, I will, I will, oh oh
I will
Ooh, I will
