

Melange Mining Co.

Darwin Deez

you've been trying to make me smile since September, the miners all remember, when you decided to go back down to the planets, since then all I find is pyrite, moon rocks don't shine bright when you're used to 'em, if i could straighten up and fly right home to Houston, then i'd have the weight of your arms around me,
the weight of your arms around me,
the weight of your arms around me,
if i had the weight of your arms around me, then i'd be fine, well hearts don't break up here they just get weaker, because muscles atrophy in fractional gravity, and god does it have to be four more weekends, till we can hold each other close, this one small step for a ghost, adjust my helmet flashlight and keep on digging, till I have the weight of your arms around me,
the weight of your arms around me,
the weight of your arms around me, if i had the weight of your arms around me, it don't take much helium for one of them balloons, i'll see her soon up in the vacuum, ten tons of silicon,
and i'm on the way,
i'll see you soon,
and feel the weight,
and I'll feel the weight, i'll feel the weight, weight of your arms around me,
the weight of your arms around me,
the weight of your arms around me,
if I had the weight of your arms around me, then i'd be fine

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>