A Little Braver (Instrumental)

New Empire

With December comes the glimmer on her face
And I get a bit nervous
I get a bit nervous now
In the twelve months on I won't make friends with change When everyone's perfect can we start over again?The playgrounds they get rusty and your Heart beats another ten thousand times before
I got the chance to say
I miss youWhen it gets hard
I get a little stronger now
I get a little braver now
And when it gets dark
I get a little brighter now
I get a little wiser now
Before I give my heart awayWell we met each other at the house of runaways
I remember it perfectly
We were running on honesty
We moved together like a silver lock and key
But now that your lock has changed
I know I can't fit that wayThe playgrounds they get rusty and your Heart beats another ten thousand times before
I got the chance to say I want youWhen it gets hard I get a little stronger now
I get a little braver now
And when it gets dark
I get a little brighter now I get a little wiser now
Before I give my heart awayWhen it gets hard I get a little stronger now
I get a little braver now
And when it gets dark I get a little brighter now
I get a little wiser now
Before I give my heart away
