

Once Again (Then Came You Original Soundtrack)

Kathie Lee Gifford & Brett James

What is life but a journey?
You take one day at a time
What is life but a song that you sing?
That you float on each note lost in rhythm and rhyme
What is love but a feeling?
Soaring above on a cloud
What is love but a song that you sing?
And there's need to sing it out loud
We all need to sing it out loud
You don't find love, love finds you
In the midst of a moment right out of the blue
It's mixed up on your heart how you make it a sound
Till all of a sudden you find you've been found
What is life but a movie?
You film one frame at a time
From the ways that you grow to the places you go
From the medals you cross to the mountains you climb
Everyone writes their own movie
No one knows how it will end
But we can spend each and every new day
Trying to find a brand new way to say
To the one who's become your best friend:
I love you, I do
And the miracle of my life you love me too
And in this crazy world all around us
Love came and actually found us
Love actually found us, once again
No you don't find love, love finds you
In the middle of nowhere right out of the blue
It's mixed up on your heart hardly whispering a prayer
Till all of a sudden you hear it and love's right there
How could it possibly be?
How actually found you and me, once again?
