

Everything Crash

The Ethiopians

You've never seen my face before
You will not recognize my voice
I am the perfect law to end these wicked crimes
I am a man without a past

I face a world without a future
And I've done it all at least a million times
I'm the eyes that read between the lines
I devise the rumor and vicious lies

I do everything I can to hide the truth
But can you see it in my eyes?
I kill spies

As I walked into the room
I couldn't help but feel the tension
I can hear your thoughts, I can read your mind
I've been through this all before

By persistence, by intention
I just do my job and leave the past behind
Once there was a time when I believed
Anything could happen at any time

I've been waiting for this moment all my life
And now at last the pleasure's mine
I kill spies
