Time should stop

The sun that rises every morning
One day did not rise
Her hands slipped out of mine
And turned into a shining star
She smiled and while spreading her light
Those eyes were filled with tears
Don?t cry, she won?t hear anymore
Once upon a time she lived?
As she went away, all the colours
She left behind turned black
Don?t be sad, understand,
Maybe she found peace

Even if you say time should stop
Life is not a game
Even if you don?t believe
You must understand:
Everything has got an end
However you resist

Even if you wish she heard you
Even if you wish she returned
Life is not a game
You?ve got no remedy, understand,
Never wake up, however years go by
