

Mess with Your Heart

American Authors

Half the city is now too big for your taste
And your hometown feels million miles away
One of walls closed in and the only time you own
Is just when you speaking through the satellite in space
You say you haven't made a single soul you trust
You always heard about the smoke from another strangest gun
Let me show you I've got nothing left to hide
All I have to give to you is my love
Yeah I really really want to take the time now
And I really really want to change your mind now
So don't worry I won't mess with your heart
I'll be your neon light in the dark
And that's where the clouds cover the stars
I won't mess with your heart
Won't mess with your heart
I won't mess with your heart
And I promised that I'll be right here listen
I'll shatter your doubts and all your intuitions
Every cab from home, I'll call you just to know
That you made it safe and sound back to Brooklyn
Yeah I really really want to take the time now
And I really really want to change your mind now
So don't worry I won't mess with your heart
I'll be your neon light in the dark
And that's where the clouds cover the stars
I won't mess with your heart
Won't mess with your heart
I won't mess with your heart
Oh, I won't, I won't, no
The way you've memorize each Ryan Adams lyric
You sing it out loud just like nobody is listening
And all I'm asking is for that kind of love
And I promised that you never will regret it
So don't worry I won't mess with your heart
I'll be your neon light in the dark
And that's where the clouds cover the stars
I won't mess with your heart
No, won't mess with your heart
Yeah, I won't mess with your heart

Songwriters

BRYAN FRYZEL, DAVID RUBLIN, JAMES SHELLEY, MATTHEW SANCHEZ, SCOTT HARRIS, ZAC
BARNETT

Published by
Lyrics © Round Hill Music Big Loud Songs, Peermusic Publishing

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>