Sing for You

Angie Johnson

He never talked about the things he saw
But tonight it came pouring out like rain
I guess today's the day i said...
How long have you been keeping this in he said haven't even told one friend cause Hey
It won't take away the pain
Oh if I could get it out somehow Oh I said don't think about that now Just Let me sing for you let me take you away from where you are and where you've been
It's all that I can do
I wanna take you to that place where you can feel safe again
Close your eyes if you need to Let me sing for you, He said...
All I could see was smoke and fire
We hadn't slept in 48 hours, It was hot and we were so damn tired
We were hit and everything went black, Soaking wet from the blood on my hands
But it wasn't mine, and I couldn't stop from crying
Oh he had a wife and a baby on the way
Oh why didn't god take me on that day, and I said...
Let me sing for you
let me take you away from where you are and where you've been
It's all that I can do
I wanna take you to that place where you can feel safe again
Close your eyes if you need to
Let me sing for you
Let it go the hurt you're holding
Even if it's only for a moment
Let me sing for you
let me take you away from where you are and where you've been
It's all that I can do
I wanna take you to that place where you can feel safe again
Close your eyes if you need to
Let me sing for you.

Lyrics Submitted by Chloe Smith

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/